ABOUT OUR ACTIVITIES

This Art Centre was founded with the twin objectives of (a) Perpetuating the haloed memory of maestro non-pareil of mridangam art, Palghat T.S. Mani Iyer and (b) Promotion of dissemination of greater awareness among laymen and scholars alike of the knowledge of finer aspects of Percussive Arts.

It was inaugurated as "Palghat Mani Iyer Memorial Art centre" on the Vijayadasami in 1981 by Late S.Y. Krishnaswamy, IAS a devoted admirer, connoisseur, art critic and an authority of Palghat Mani's multi-dimensional eloquence. This is the First Music Centre established to commemorate the invaluable services of Palghat Mani Iyer of Music. In his inaugural address, S.Y. Krishnaswamy observed and hoped that, "If this new venture should enable the audience to understanding what the Mrudangam Vidwan is doing with greater interest and greater knowledge than everbefore, then this Centre would have served a very useful purpose". The necessity for forming an exclusive organisation for promotion the interests in the intricates of Laya and Taala had been long felt. It was though fit to name this Centre after the maestro Palghat Mani Iyer, considering the contribution of this great artist in elevating the status of percussion accompanists in general. Palghat Mani is mostly responsible for the recognition and the present uniform remuneration of similarly graded artistes in mass-media like Akashvani and Doordarshan.

This Art Centre was registered in August 1985 as Percussive Arts Centre (Palghat Mani Iyer memorial Arts Centre) with a wider perspective of achieving the objects set forth. Details of the programmes organised thus far has been furnished elsewhere in this publication for the perusal of interested connoisseurs for comments and suggestions for improvement. GETHU VAADYA, the ancient stringed percussion instrument was introduced in a Percussion Ensemble for the first time. Several Temple and Folk-Stick-instruments like SAMMELA, CHANDE, CHOWDIKE were introduced, in addition to TABLA TARANG to provide melody besides Rhythm. New concepts and compositional forms are being tried. All these have paved a fresh approach and concept of Laya. The international Mini Drum Festival organised with the Indian Council for Cultural Relations of Central Government for the first time in Bangalore provided a new dimension in the appreciation of Percussive Arts.

The Centre has been organising "Thaalavaadyotsavs", the Percussive Arts Festival cum Conference as an annual feature. A project of Talent Promotion was taken up and some progress has been made in this direction, while plans are afoot to activise this. Youth Forum of the Art Centre has been doing some praise worthy work in promotion of awareness among young artists. Inter State Cultural Exchange of classical musicians has been taken up.

We have been conferring annual awards to outstanding percussionists. An Award has been instituted by K.K. Murthy, President, Academy of Music, Bangalore in memory of his father, "K. PUTTU RAO MEMORIAL PALGHAT MANI AWARD". The award includes a citation, a cash award, shawl and the title "MRUDANGA KALAA SHIROMANI". "PALANI SUBRAMANYA PILLAI AWARD" was initiated by Mrudangam Vidwan Erode Gururajan in 1990. Mridanga Kalaa Shiromani Prof. Trichy Sankaran of Canada to donated this award in from 1991 to 1993. This award is new being donated by Ramasudha Charities from 1994 and the title "LAYA KALAA NIPUNA" is being conferred. Khanjari Kalaa Shiromani H.P. Ramachar has been donating for the H. PUTTACHAR MEMORIAL AWARD to be presented to a deserving talented artist in the mid-age group (of having crossed the youth but not reached the age of 60's. Carrying the title "LAYA KALA PRATIBHA MANI".

Since the inception of the Centre, despite several financial constraints, the Centre has managed to bring out several publications.

Dr. Sreedevi and Dr. H.K. Chandrasekhar of USA, have created an endowment to organise the HCK Bhatta memorial Lecturers, some of which the already been released as monographs. The Centre has conducted several Lecture-Demonstrations, Study Circles and Seminars on topics related to Laya, Thaala and Percussive Arts by acknowledged scholars and outstanding exponents. These have been received well by the erudite and the lay alike. Several concerts were also organised to supplement these activities. The Centre has undertaken several projects and, the SEMINARS participated by artists from several States have been acclaimed a unique success. Our Quarterly Newsletter "PERCUSSIVE ART" is a medium through which our activities are published. Documenting eminent artistes has been taken up and some artistes have already been covered. Ramasudha Charities have been sponsoring this item.

The maintenance grant of the Govt. of Karnataka has infused a confidence in us to enlarge our academic contents of the activities and we have successfully conducted Study Circles, Seminars, Lecture Demonstrations etc. Govt. of India, Sangeet Natak Akademi, New Delhi have been very kind in assisting the Centre with their grants. The State Govt. have supported with their grants. We are deeply obliged to all these bodies. Our sponsors and advertisers have kept our spirits flying and have supported our efforts very nobly. We express our thanks to them all. Dr. Raja Ramanna is our Patron-in-Chief. Our thanks to M.R. Doraiswamy Iyengar, Chairman for the whole hearted support. V. Krishnan, our Patron has been our perennial support in augmenting our finances. We have the guidance of our President Justice Nittoor Sreenivasa Rau in all our activities. Members of our various committees extend support in all our endeavours. Advertisers, Donors and Sponsors have been extending their co-operation. With the support of these connoisseurs, we hope to do better. We convey our gratitude to all our previous office bearers for their invaluable help and support. We seek the continued patronage of all our benefactors in our future endeavours in a like manner to enable further contributing our mite in future years as well.

We thank all those who have directly and indirectly been associated with us and have helped us in our efforts in the cause of promotion of Percussive Arts.

PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE OF PERCUSSIVE ARTS CENTRE

Indian music had identified several percussion instruments which largely accompanied different forms of musical expressions. The Sociobiological necessity of percussions in music, is a fact established of late, but the ancient Indian musicians had identified and immortalised the necessity of percussions at the rim of folk-lore and classical overtones.

The Indian percussion instruments could be segmented and applied in different demographic and social situations such as folk-lore, temple rituals and indoor classical concerts where each form had its own charm and methodology. For instance, Mridanga, Khanjari, Ghata, Morching (Karnatak) and Pakhwaj, Tabla (Hindustani) are exclusively used in indoor classical concerts, whereas sammela, Chande, Dolu (Thavi) and Cymbal (Thala) are representative of the folk-lore and temple ritualistic forms. As for the utility, the folklore forms largely remained out of the realm of the classical forms, for they neither had an identifiable shruti nor a definite set-pattern. Nevertheless the folk-lore sound patterns had an organic amalgamation with the culture that had sustained it and therefore, till recently very few attempts were made to synthesise these two forms of percussion instruments. Till recently, percussions were considered only for supportive role, and only recently it is recognised that percussions have an independent identity of their own, as in Western ensembles.

This presentation is under a project of "Professional groups for specified performing arts covering rare forms and other traditional forms for music ensembles-orchestrations". This PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE is planned for presentation cum Video taping/audio-taping for preservation and possible analysis for further innovations and development of these thematic expressions. This is an attempt of blending these hitherto different forms of percussion where the charm of folklore is not dispensed at the cost of tone value. To drive this idea home, tabla tarang had been included in the ensemble where rhythm and melody are given the requisite priorities. For the first time, Gethu Vadya, an ancient stringed percussion instrument is included. Unlike others, Gethu Vadya is the only stringed percussion instrument, a shruti vadya and a taala vadya. The other instruments used differ in sound, their timbre, texture, and attempt to strike a balance between classical norms and in giving an independent identity to these instruments. The artistes conditioned mainly to classical music are attempting to look beyond into new rhythmic areas and innovations-adventures. This earnestness has to match with proper thought and planning and also create an awareness into the potentialities and also limitations of the different instruments.

Future attempts include innovations into electronic instruments and computerised music etc. Some instruments practiced by other backward community members are also put to use.

LAYA VRUSHTI

'Laya Vrushti', which means a shower of rhythm, is the first in a series of Audio Cassettes planned to exclusively present some of the innovative thoughts mentioned earlier. In three parts, Laya Vrushti presents an innovatory item LAYA SAMMILAN, followed by a 'classical rendition, MRIDANGAM SYMPHONY, and the conventional percussion round with a blend of different Instruments named PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE.

Laya Vrushti attempts to reveal the potentialities of the related instruments and stimulate exploration of new dimensions in music. The interesting feature of this presentation is the individual contribution made by each member to produce an overall enjoyable performance. The variety in the items presented and the innovations attempted establish a step towards the identification of the independent personality of each instruments.

This was released by "Sangeetha" Master recording Co, Madras.

A Top grade artist of AIR, Palanivel is the only Thavil artist on whose career and accomplishments, a dissertation for M.Phil has been written and degree awarded by Bharathidasan university.

In recognition of his unique service on the field of percussive Art, Haridwara Mangalam Palanivel receives the K.Puttu Rao Memorial Palghat Mani Award for 1998 during the Birth Centenary Celebrations of Nagaswara Chakravarthy T.N. Rajarathnam Pillai

BIRTH CENTENARY

Nagaswara Chakravarthy T. N. RAJARATHNAM PILLAI

Born on 27-8-1898 to nagaswaram player Kannuswamy Pillai at Tirumarugal christined as Balasubramanyam, adopted by Tirumarugal Natesa Pillai in 1902, was named as Rajarathnam, became well known as Tirumarugal Natesan Rajarathnam Pillai.

Rajarathnam commenced his studies under his uncle Kadiresan Pillai, had training in vocal music under the great violinist Tirukkodikaval Krishna Iyer, noted vocalist Konerirajapuram Vaidyanatha Iyer and the legendary veena Dhanammal. Ammachatram Kannuswamy Pillai trained Rajarathnam in Nagaswaram. Some of the great Thavil players who accompanied the Nagaswara Chakravarthy were Needamangalam Meenakshisundaram, Malaikottai Panchami, Muthuveera Pillai, Nachiarkoil Raghavan, NTM. Shanmukhavadivelu, Yazhapanam Dakshinamurthy, Gadwal Venkatappa.

Karikuruchi Arunachalam was a true heir to Rajarathnam. Rajarathnam Pillai passed away on 12-12-1956 at his Adyar residence. The birth centenary of this great legendary Nagaswara Chakravathy is celebrated by the Art Centre in its Annual 17th Thaalavaadyotsav. An exclusive monograph is released on the occasion and a symposium on the "Contribution of Nagaswaram to Karnatak Music" is also scheduled.

NADA LAYA NATYA

Produced and Presented by TAVIL CHAKRAVARTI
HARIDWARAMANGALAM A. K. PALANIVEL

Nada, the sound manifest, is that which pleases the ear. Laya is rhythm, the very pulse of every movement in the Universe. The former is made up of vibrations and the interval between one vibration and the other is nothing but Laya, the rhythm. Hence there could be no Nada without Laya and vice versa.

Music is a part of Natya, according to ancient literature. Natya (Dancing) and Nagasvaram - Taval music sprout from the gense and took their birth, fostered and progressed, within the precincts of the South Indian Temples. Both arts were, until recently, essential constituents in the worship rituals. Though they developed, hand in hand, these two arts were handled, in practice, as two separate art forms. A deep and provoking thought in this angle implanted in the brain of Haridwaramangalam A. K. Palanivel, an impetus to innovate a new approach, by way of fusion of these two ancient arts, the result being NADA LAYA NATYA. He has given a new shape and colour to the form of dancing with Nagasvaram and Taval, while retaining vocal music with Violin and Mrudangam keeping in line with the tenets of tradition.

Few girls with all the requisites for an ideal dancer and expertise are featured in this programme. While the lyrical portions of any song taken up are rendered by the melodious voice to the accompaniment of Violin and Mrudangam, the relevant swara passages are beautifully portrayed by a pair of Nagasvara artists, who excel in that art.

The repertoire usually consists, at the beginning, of Mallari. Mallari is musical form, without any lyric, necessarily played in temples at the commencement of the deity's processions. In the present programme, Mallari in three speeds of tempo (slow, medium and fast) interspersed with Tisragati (a variation in the natural gait) in very tempo with three speeds on that too, is an enjoyable rhythmic feat.

Next comes 'Pushpanjali-offering' of flowers to the Lord - followed by the Jatiswaram, a traditional dance number. The most important and lengthy item in a dance recital is the Varnam, In 'Nada Laya Natya' to perform complex jati patterns (solfa passages) that are intricate in rhythmic texture, composed and executed by him, on the TAVIL.

Percussive Solo (Tani Avartham) is the most exciting part in any musical concert. Taval being the beaconlight to this aspect and A. K. Palanivel being the most outstanding maestro, naturally, a Taniavartta on the Taval, extempore, by this unsurpassable virtuosity finds a justified place. No wonder it comprises of complicated and terse rhythmic manipulations, to which, the dancers do their part. To witness and enjoy this would cause a thrilling and scintillating experience.

In the second part of the programme, Tillana, Padams and few songs in lighter vein have a share. The programme 'Nada Laya Natya' conceived, produced and presented by the most praiseworthy Taval wizard, Haridwaramangalam A. K. Palanivel is first and foremost of its kind and being based purely on the edifice of tradition, is, no doubt, a fare feast to scholars as well as to the populi.
